CLASS HISTORY

Twelve years ago in 1929 when Miss LeLong called the roll, six of the members of the Class of '41 were present. They were Evelyn Owen, Vera Owen, Elmer Frank, Donald Wandel, Gail Archer, and Louise Starr.

Evelyn was born near Homerville on Feb. 1, 1923. She has always been very industrious, always studying. Her chief interests seem to be cows and nursing.

The second member was a little bashful black eyed girl who was as wide as she was long, Vera Owen. She was also born near Homer, on April 23, 1923. Her chief interest seemed always to be boys.

The most bashful member of the class was Elmer Frank. He was a very cute little boy who was born on January 15, 1923, in Homer township. His managing ability was shown when he was chosen manager of the basketball team in his senior year.

The class romeo was Donald Wandel who was also born in Homer township on Oct. 17, 1923. From the time he entered school he took an interest in sports. The continuation of this interest has had an effect on the basketball and baseball scores, for early in Don's high school career sports filled a larger part of his mind than did those boresome books.

The third little boy was Gail Archer, who was born near Homer on January 26, 1923. He soon proved to be the wizard of the class and held that position until the end of school. In fact, Gail's lessons seemed to be so quickly forgotten that he used his master mind to invent mischievious pranks for the benefit of his sense of humor but to the vexation of his teachers. Part of his excess energy went into playing basketball and baseball.

The other charter member is Louise Stair who was born is Ashland, Ohio, on Nov. 20, 1923. Her main interest is art, all her school papers were covered with specimens of art even if the lessons were missing.

In the third year, with Miss Loomis, who is now Mrs. Peter Reese Jr., as teacher, a new member joined our merry throng. The second grade teacher decided to relieve herself of the responsibility of Olive Eshelman by placing her in our class. We never quite learned whether this was done because of her good grades or merely to get rid of such a mischievious little girl. Olive was born in Homer on June 20, 1924. She has always taken a very active part in all school activities.

The fourth year found us with a change of teachers. Miss Overholt, now Mrs. Larry Palmer, guided us through this year.

Then came the greatest thrill of our school life so far. We journeyed up the three flights of stairs where we entered Mr. Jeffery's room and stayed there for two very pleasant years.

The seventh and eighth grades offered a new experience and made us feel very important now that we were under the wings of the high school teachers. We had lots of fun but oh--how we missed those customary recesses when half of our lunch would mysteriously disappear long before noon. These were two very long and trying years, especially for the teachers.

The thing we remember most about our first high school year is the initiation given us by our upper classmen.

The next year brought to our class its greatest and biggest asset, Joe Saniuk, who was born on April 2, 1922, in Cleveland. After spending 8 years in Albion, he selected Homer to finish his high school course. After passing through the stages of curious stares from classmates and the task of remembering the name of this student and that one, he became one of the most popular members of the class. He was also a great help to the basketball team.

1939 found us in our Junior year with Miss Edwards as our advisor. Our ranks were strengthined by the enrollment of Norman Jucker, who was born May 22, 1923 in Cleveland, Ohio. He is an industrious bo and took up baksetball along with his studies.

This year we also presented our Junior class play, "A Pair of Country Kids." The proceeds from the play enabled us to banquet the Seniors at the Wiles tea Room at Seville, followed by a show at Wadsworth.

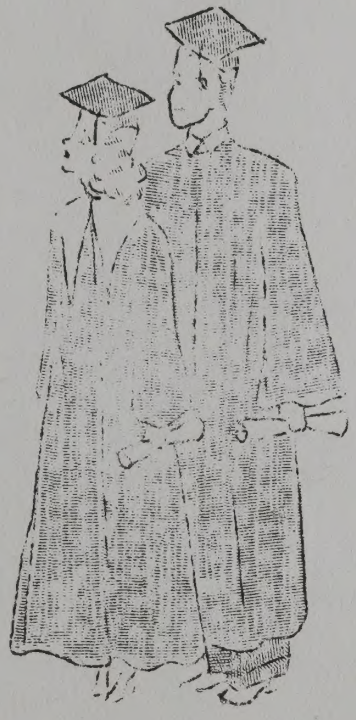
at last we came to the position of intelligent and dignified Seniors under the guidance of Mr. Bingo. This year the last of our class joined us. Marcella Cantleberry who was born April 1, 1923, in Millsburg, Ohio, came from Mansfield to graduate with us. Although she seemed rather shy at first, she became a favorite among her classmates.

The senior play, "M'Liss" was given in November. We are indeed grateful to the Juniors for the Banquet which they gave us.

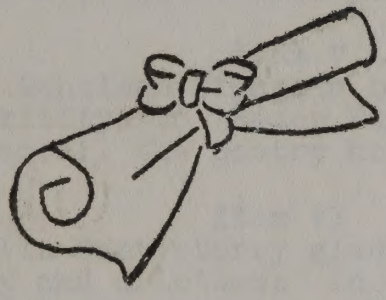
Olive and Evelyn have been members of both band and orchestra and also the debate team. Louise was a member of the All-County chorus in her Senior year. Most of the class belongs to mixed chorus and the glee clubs. We are also proud of Don who was chosen a member of the All-County basketball team this year. During the Junior year all but one member of the class belonged to the Dramatic Club, and all participated in the one-act plays which were presented that year.

Now that school is over, we wish to express our gratitude to the teachers for their display of perserverance during the trials and tribulations we have caused them.

--Louise Stair



CLASS WILL



We, the Senior Class of '41, decided after a long secret session, that since we are to leave our places to the Juniors it would be both fitting andproper that we should leave them some mementos of regard and affection that may prove helpful and inspirational to them in the future. We hereby give, devise, and bequeath our effects as follows to wit:

Item I

The Senior Class bequeaths its most heartfelt thanks and gratitude to the teachers who have so patiently guided us through our school life.

Item II

Vera Mae Owen wishes to bequeath her "way with men" to Lura Stroup, Helen Keener, and Hazel Repp so they can win what's left of the weaker sex.

Item III

Louise Stair only too happily, leaves her artistic ability to the Junior Class so they can design original programs next year.

Item IV

Evelyn Owen wishes to give her studious ability to Jim Delong and Leroy Eagle and the hopes they will do better in their studies next year than they did in gov't this year.

Item V

Olive Eshelman wishes to bequeath her public speaking ability to Roger Rumbaugh so he won't have to scan all the poetry he reads.

Item VI

Marcella Cantleberry gladly leaves her studious ability and quietness in shorthand to Marie Archer and hopes she will make up next year, for what she missed this year.

Item VII

Joe Saniuk wills with pleasure his size to Stanley Krinov and Eileen Kiplinger, and his understanding of women he gives graciously to Orris Hughes.

Item VIII

Donald Wandel leaves his great athletic ability to Leonard Delong and hopes he will use it to its fullest extent next year.

Item IX

Gail Archer's studyworn notebooks and other books can be Frances Wackerman's for the asking.

Item XII

Donald Wandel askes Irvin Markel, a little regretfully, if he will take care of Edith during the coming year, (take good care of her Irvin.) Gail Archer also wishes Leroy Eagle would take care of Dorothy next year for him. They will also furnish paper to write notes on.

Item XIII

Louise Stair and Olive Eshelman sadly leave their aprons to Virginia Howe and Eleanor Kiczek and hope that they will take good care of the undernourished next year.

Item XIV

Norman Juchum gladly gives his mathematical ability and books to Arlene Frank and hopes that some day they will get together, (to study of course.)

Item XV

Evelyn Owen leaves her astounding chemistry ability to Lura Stroup and Jack Shadley with hopes that some day they will become great chemists.

Item XVI

Marcella Cantleberry and Elmer Frank will inform Alberta Pryor and Roger Rumbaugh as to some old haunts they found in the days of yore.

Item XVII

Joe Saniuk and Norman Juchum will leave their formula for being champion heartbreakers to Elzie Zimmerman as long as he promises not to bother the girl with blue-black hair who lives in Cleveland, and the girl on the hill whose name, I believe, is Arline.

Item XVIII

Evelyn Owen leaves her ability to raise prize winning calves to Frances Wackerman and hopes she will earn a good living by showing them at the fairs.

At exactly 9:01 A. M. on Sept. 9, 1940, nineteen Juniors rushed into the classroom and made a dive for the back seats.

Since the previous year, we had lost three members and gained three. Genevieve Gordon had moved to Sullivan, Jane Jester and Edna Farner had changed their academic studies for something that interested them more. Alberta Pryor joined us from Coventry. Irvin Markel hailed from Tigard, Oregon, and Jack Shadley blew in from West Salem.

We entered into our studies with zest, thrilling with anticipation at the good times we expected to have.

The boys of our class were the most valuable members of the basketball team. Elzie Zimmerman, Roger Rumbaugh, and Orris Hughes scored the points of the first team and Leroy Eagle, Jack Shadley, and Stanley Krinov helped the second team.

Alberta, Virginia, Marie, Frances, and Eleanore were on the debate team. Eileen, Arline, Marie, and Virginia took part in the Music Contest held at Seville. Four of our Juniors, Stanley, Elzie, Frances, and Leonard took part in the scholarship contests. Marie, Eleanor, Frances, and Virginia participated in the Prince of Peace contest. Virginia received second in the county contest. Members of the class in the school orchestra and band are Elzie, Eileen, Marie, Eleanore, Virginia, and Arline. Virginia represented our class in the county orchestra, chorus, and the sextette.

Our biggest social event is to be the Junior-Senior Banquet. It is to be held at the Oberlin Inn on Wednesday, May 21. We are anticipating great fun at the Senior's expense at our gypsy camp. To provide for this event, we have, besides our class play , raised cash by selling candy at games, sponsoring an outside play, a movie, and on May 14, an amateur show featuring Pie Plant Pete and Bashful Harmonica Joe.

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to Miss Edwards, our advisor, for her guidance and help during the school year.

Junior Class $ to ◎ Play

Perhaps the greatest event of the year, as far as the Juniors were concerned, was the Junior play. After weeks of worry, excitement and practice the big night finally arrived. The cast was in different moods from being scared stiff to scared silly. The name of the play was "Dollars to Doughnuts" and from the amount of doughnuts Leonard consumed, he showed a pretty good idea of the proper way to dunk. The cast of characters was as follows:

Kenneth Gurdy----------Elzie Zimmerman
Captain of the Bella
Aunt Dulcie----------Eleanor Kiczek
Proprietress of the Doughnut Shoppe
J. Q. Jessup----------Leonard Delong
A wealthy touriest
Wilda Graham----------Frances Wackerman
A summer visitor
Carla Lacey----------Eileen Kiplinger
Another summer visitor
Jonatha Jessup----------Virginia Howe
A runaway
Natalie Estes----------Arlene Frank
Jonatha's cousin
Gregory Walbridge----------Roger Rumbaugh
Jonath's Millionaire fiance
Vernon Kelsy----------Stanley Krinov
Carla's boyfriend
Gene Cosgrive----------Jack Shadley
Wilda's boyfriend
Orley Dodge----------Irvin Markel
An amateur detective
Hattie----------Marie Archer
Orley's ladylove

Helen Slarb----------without Pauline
Hildreth Stevenson----------with a history book
Mary Trapp----------six feet tall
Betty Wackerman---------not being sleepy on Monday
Helen Ward----------playing in a jazz band

Last September we assembled (after the tardy bell) and discovered that we had two new members, making a total of twenty-two in our class--seventeen girls and five boys. The new members were Pauline Allen from Spencer and Mary Markel from Oregon.

Our first big event was the election of officers. The results were: President, Hildreth Stevenson; Vice Pres., Bill Rose; Sec'y.-Treas., Mildred Lance; Advisor, Miss Kidd.

We think we have the most talented class in school. Helen Ward, Donna Jean, Betty, Pearl, Jean, and Doris play in the band and orchestra. Twelve of the girls sing in the girls' glee club and four of the boys sing in the boys' glee club. At the solo contest at Seville, Mildred played a clarinet solo, Betty played a flute solo, and Doris. Helen Ward, Leota, and Calvin sang vocal solos.

Pearl, Doris, Leota, and Pauline were members of the sextette. Jean accompanied them at the piano. Mildred participated in the Prince of Peace Contest. Talma, Leota, Helen W., Betty, Jean, Pauline, and Doris belong to the Girl Reserve Club.

Betty, Helen W., and Mildred were the first team basketball cheerleaders. They were known as "Dreamy," "Blondie," and "Mid." Hildreth was a member of the varsity basketball team and Frank was a substitute. Bill and Calvin were substitutes on the second team.

Our class sponsored the Freshman Initiation party which proved to be such a success that Jesse Shadley came to school the next day wearing his clothes backwards. After a few tears the freshman girl consented to wear their dresses backwards.

A farewell party for Mildred, who moved to Nova, was sponsored by our class. The whole high school was invited. We were sorry to lose "Mid."

Eleven victories and twelve losses was the record made by Homer's first team on the basketball court thisyear under the coaching of Mr. Shook. In the county league we won three games while losing four. We were defeated in the first game of the county tournament at Medina by Seville --the score was 47-33. The greatest thrill this season, to the team and the school, came when Don Wandel was chosen as an All-County forward for Medina County. It has been a number of years since Homer has had the honor of having one of its players on the All-County team, so the class of 1941 has something of which to be proud.

Homer's second team, under the coaching of Mr. Woodburn, achieved a somewhat better record than that of the first team. The second team won twelve games while losing eight--four victories against three losses was the record in county competition.

Though Homer's fall baseball season resulted in only two victories, it was considered as satisfactory to the team and the coach. As Homer lost its whole infield and pitching staff last spring, it was necessary to build practically an entire new team. Mr. Woodburn, the team's new coach, didn't know what any of the boys could do; so it was an experiment which did prove satisfactory.

The record of the team this spring has been somewhat better. At the present time the team has won four games and lost the same number. The team fought its way to the play-off for the championship of the county by defeating Leroy 21-2. In the finals it was another story, however, as Spencer defeated our boys 15-4. With most of the boys returning next year, we can expect an even more successful season on the diamond.

Second Speaker----------Virginia Howe
Alternate----------Frances Wackerman

Negative Team:

First Speaker----------Alberta Pryor
Second Speaker----------Evelyn Owen
Alternates-----Marie Archer and Eleanor Kiczek

The question this year was "Resolved: That the powers of the federal government should be increased."

After much brain racking to prepare a brief and to write the speeches, the teams were ready to face the stiffest of competition. The affirmatives held their first debate, which was against the Spencer negative team, here. The same day the negatives were giving their side of the argument at Chatham. The day came to a perfect end for Homer, Because both teams won.

About a week later the negative team debated against Hinckley here, and again victory was ours. That evening, the affirmatives faced the Lodi team at Lodi. The Lodi negatives won, but it was only after a hard and difficult struggle, because the Homerites were not easily conquered.

This put Homer's debate teams in second place in the county this year, and everyone is looking forward to first place next year.

DECLAMATION

Shortly after school opened, eight girls headed by Miss Edwards set out to prove that Homer High is well supplied with speakers. This, of course, was in preparation for the Prince of Peace Declamation Contest. According to the rules, we were permitted to hold two contests with four participating in each. Those who took part in the first contest were:

Mildred Lance---"Shall They Have Died in Vain"
Olive Eshelman----------"Christ for the Crisis"
Lura Stroup----------"Blind Followers"
Frances Wackerman-"The Blitzkrieg of Humanity"

The second contest consisted of:

Virginia Howe----------"War, Do You Want It?"
Alberta Pryor----------"Christ for the Crisis"
Marie Archer----------"Fool's Gold"
Eleanor Kiczek----------"Christianity or War"

Those who took first place in our local contest were Virginia and Mildred. We are proud to say that Virginia received second place in the county contest. The runners-up here at Homer were Alberta and Olive. Miss Edwards should be complimented for her good work in coaching the girls.

GIRLS' GLEE

The Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs have made two public appearances during the year.

At the operetta on April 29, the Glee Clubs combined to sing "All in the April Evening" and "Out of the East She Came". The Girls' Glee also sang "The Green Cathedral" and "The Shepherdess".

The combined chorus took part in the All-County chorus of 635 members at the Music Festival at Seville on May 9.

Four of the members of the Girls' Glee were selected to sing in the special County Chorus. These were Louise Stair, Leota Schoen, Virginia Howe, and Pearl Owen.
